Vaccination program planned

Thursday, Nov. 15 is the first scheduled vaccination for dogs and cats in Appomattox County, according to an announcement this week by William M. Burger, DVM, Appomattox Animal Hospital. Three locations are set for Thursday's schedule. Appomattox Animal Hospital 9 a.m. until 10 a.m.; Guill's Market, Route 727 from 3:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.; and Old Oakville School from 5 p.m. until 6 p.m.

"This year we're offering cat as well as dog vaccinations," said Burger. "It is mandatory in Appomattox County for dogs to be vaccinated. However, vaccination for cats is voluntary."

"Buckingham County has endorsed an ordinance requiring cat owners to have their cats vaccinated although no tags are required for cats," said Burger.

The statewide rabies outbreak, which began in Shenandoah County in 1980 is expected to reach Henrico County by the end of this year or early next year, according to Dr. Forrest W. Pitts health director of Henrico County.

Approximately 30 counties have been hit by the outbreak, the closest being Rockbridge, bordering on Amherst County; Augusta and Albermarle bordering Nelson County and Fluvanna County bordering on Buckingham County. The outbreak has hit Louisa, and Hanover, bordering on Goochland and Henrico Counties.

Racoons have been involved in the vast majority of rabid animal cases reported.

People are warned about the danger of contact with wildlife and with dogs and cats they are not familiar with. There have been 164 cases of rabid animals in the state of Virginia this year.

On Thursday, Dec. 27 vaccinations are scheduled for the Appomattox Animal Hospital from 9 a.m. until 10 a.m.

Wednesday, Jan. 9 two locations are planned. Pamplin Fire House 12 noon until 1 p.m. and Jimmy's Grocery Store, Red House 1:30 p.m. until 2:30 p.m.

On Saturday, Jan. 26 vaccinations will be given at the Appomattox Animal Hospital from 9 a.m. until 11 Gm.

"We are asking all cat owners to be sure cats are restrained in cat carriers or cages; owners will be responsible for their cats," Burger concluded.

Town works on sewer improvement project

By FRANCES ABBITT

Bernard Proctor, Engineer for the Town of Appomattox, appeared before the Appomattox Town Council at Monday night's meeting with a report on sewer line work for the town.

"Specifications for sewer line improvements are about 60 percent complete," Proctor said.

"The pre-design for the lagoon has been finished. The depth of the lagoon will be changed from 4.6 feet to 8 feet. We should have the preliminary plans ready to go to the health department by week after next," Proctor added.

Appomattox Town Manager William R. Britton reported the new well for the town located on the property acquired from Mrs. Verta Stanley, at the end of Ethel Street and Countryside Drive, is producing 60 to 70 gallons of water per minute during a 24-hour test. The well will be tested for 48 hours at a later date.

"After the expiration of four other wells in the past two years, we are really pleased to find this productive well at this end of the system. We'll get the well on the line as soon as possible," Britton concluded.

Mayor Ronald C. Spiggle reported on his meeting with Appomattox Cable Television representatives Vic Bosiger and Jimmy Foster on Wednesday of last week.

"We went over parts of the line, around the Town of Appomattox and some of the proposed line in the Evergreen area. I don't know of anyone in the town who wants cable television and doesn't have access to it," Spiggle said.

"The television representatives reported that the company is adding the Nashville Channel and plans the addition of another channel in the near future," Spiggle noted.

"I am trying to get the company to add three additional channels," Spiggle said.

Expansion for the 460 east cable television will get underway in the very near future.

For hazardous materials

Britton, Mitchell named to Task Force

By FRANCES ABBITT

The Appomattox County Board of Supervisors named William R. Britton, Appomattox town manager and special assistant to Board of Supervisors; and Hugh Mitchell, Appomattox fire Chief, to the Hazardous Waste Materials Task Force at last Friday's board meeting.

Freddie Godsey, member of the Appomattox Volunteer Fire Department, was named alternate to the Task Force.

Vic Bosiger and Jimmy Foster of Appomattox Cable Television appeared before the board with an update on the progress of the cable television system in the county.

The board had earlier expressed concern about completion of service in some areas of the county.

"We're back feeding, that is, going over already installed lines and updating service and expansion is getting underway on Route 460 east of Appomattox," said Bosiger.

"A total of 37 homes per mile is necessary to make construction profitable," commented Foster.

Service along Route 460 west of Appomattox may be delayed indefinitely because the area does not have enough homes per mile to permit construction. The 3.4-mile area has an average density of 26 homes per mile making the area short of the required 37 homes per mile.

"We're planning to get 460-east expansion underway within 45 days," says Bosiger "and plan to have connections completed within a short time."

The cable television company plans to add a Nashville network on Dec. 1 to the existing channels, and plans the addition of another network, American Christian Television, in the near future.

"We want to give the people in Appomattox the best possible service," added Bosiger.

In other business the board approved an increase in the price of county vehicle decals from $10 to $15.

Gennis Gragg was re-appointed to a new term of three years, beginning Jan. 1, to the Central Virginia Planning District Commission.

The board endorsed a resolution by Virginia Beautiful Committee, Inc. calling for a 10 cent deposit on all beer and soft drink containers. The resolution will not take effect unless it is passed by state legislature.

Shelter-Survey Technicians will make a survey in Appomattox County to determine the availability of buildings for use as shelter spaces for the protection of county residents, should the need arise.

The Shelter Survey Technicians working for Appomattox County are undergraduate, full-time college students or graduate architects or engineers who are trained and certified to do this survey.

Dr. S. R. Lawson, chairman of the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors, will provide each member of the team with a letter of introduction to be shown to building owners.

Lloyd Walton, Appomattox County School Division Superintendent, reported that all remodeling is completed on all four school buildings.

"We feel mighty good about this year," Walton commented. "The remodeling is behind us and we are on schedule financially the way it looks now. Things are progressing well."

In the October attendance report the average daily membership for the four schools was 2386.73; 2421 enrolled; a membership of 2389 with a 96.9 percent attendance.

Countians choose Reagan, say 'no' to zoning

President Ronald Reagan was the winner in Appomattox County in last Tuesday's General Election, defeating Democrat Walter Mondale in his bid for the presidency. Reagan received 3,386 Appomattox votes and Mondale received 1,498.

Republican Senator John Warner was the winner in Appomattox County, defeating his opponent Edyth Harrison 3,450 votes to 1,054.

Fifth District Congressman Dan Daniel, running unopposed, received 2,777 votes in the county.

Two Constitutional Amendments received the winning vote in the county. Amendment One "Shall the Constitution of Virginia be amended so that members of local governing bodies can be elected or appointed to vacancies in the office of mayor or board chairman?" received 1,918 votes and 1,853 against the amendment.

Amendment Two, "Shall the Constitution of Virginia be amended to require a balanced state budget?" received 2,610 favorable votes and 871 against the amendment.

Appomattox County rejected the idea of zoning by voting 2,555 against and 1,072 in favor of the issue.

The question of zoning for the County of Appomattox has been under consideration for approximately the past six years.

Only three precincts voted for zoning. Oakville voted for the issue with a total of 397 votes and 280 against the question. Stonewall precinct voted 201 yes votes and 90 against zoning. Pamplin was the third precinct to vote in favor of zoning with 92 yes votes and 43 against the issue.

If the majority of the Appomattox County voters had voted in favor of zoning for the county, the Appomattox County Board of Supervisors would have had to enact a zoning ordinance. Even though the majority of the Appomattox County voters expressed their disapproval of zoning for the county at this time, the board of supervisors could still adopt a zoning ordinance if they believed it was in the best interests of the county.

Lions' football banquet set

The Appomattox Lions Club will entertain the Appomattox County High School varsity football team members and coaches with a dinner at Country Fare Restaurant on Thursday evening, Nov. 15 at 6:30.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Johnny Palmer of Lynchburg, former outstanding football player with Duke University; former coach of championship football team at Hampton High School and former coach at E. C. Glass High School in Lynchburg.

Athletic Boosters plan wrestling match benefit

Mid-Atlantic Championship Wrestling returns to Appomattox this Friday, Nov. 16, at 8:15 p.m., in the high school gym.

The main event featuring Dick Slater against Tully Blanchard promises to be exciting since Slater will lose $1,000 if he doesn't beat Blanchard in a twenty-minute time limit.

The Assassin, known for wearing a face-covering ski mask, is scheduled to fight Kareem Muhammed in another event that will certainly be action-packed. In addition to these two events there will be four other exciting bouts including a tag team match with Mike Davis and Denny Brown versus Gary Royal and Doug Vines.

The championship wrestling is being sponsored by the ACHS Athletic Boosters Club as a fundraising project to purchase equipment for the school athletic department.

Advance tickets are on sale at Tolley's Market in Pamplin, Best Furniture Company, Appomattox Rexall Drug and from the Athletic Department at ACHS.

A goodly number of flags were flying in Appomattox in honor of Veteran's Day. Thanksgiving Day is a bit early this year, Nov. 22. Christmas Day comes on a Tuesday. In a busy Town like Appomattox, it takes a lot of doing to keep up with the vast variety of activities. Especially in the schools and churches.

Many people belong to more organizations than they can keep up with. But it's fun and worth trying. Not to belong is being like Kipling's Cat, "It Walks by It's Wild Lone."

A friend collects old books and asked if I had any. Oldest book in my library appears to have been printed in 1804, but is printed in Greek. Say, a Family Bible would make a good Christmas gift, but better check first to see if needed.

History note: The speaker at a DAR meeting in Farmville last week pointed out that James Monroe, fifth President, held more major elected offices than any other President, as well as serving as Governor of Virginia three times.

Two errors in this column last week. One was mine, for the fine ACHS paper is Raider Report, not Raider Review. Sorry about that; T'other one: Plattsburgh needs and "h" at the end. No harm done.

Had help and got a lot of flower bulbs planted Saturday. Brought in the last two decorative gourds. And what looked like snow turned out to be frost. Thermometer at 37 this a.m.

Football still dominates the sports scene. This part of the schedule has old rivals at each other. Like Randolph-Macon winning at Hampden-Sydney and the amazing Cavaliers of UVA maintaining their fast pace. The Virginia - Maryland game should be a bell-ringer and it is likely both teams are bowl bound.

Note: Slippery Rock 28, Mansfield 7.

In front of a local food store met an old friend, Russell Fleshman. He helped us for years with our yard and garden work. Says he has a good doctor and will make it okay.

At a sale purchased a copy of "The Story of the U.S. Marines." Next on reading list.

Time to check out your Christmas mailing list. Adresses change, you know. P. O. Box 98, Appomattox, will get me!

Lovely full moon. And statewide, farmers have harvested top yields of hay, soybeans, etc. Despite dry summer. Some growers cut hay up to three times.

Thanks for the kind words from Ms. Debbie Carwile, a regular reader, as is her grandfather, John A. Taylor, of Buckingham.

Thanks for reading and seeya around Growing Appomattox.

WHY ARE THESE MEN SMILING? Because they have kicked the smoking habit. Lloyd Vaughan, Ronnie Spiggle, and Herbert Abbitt, from left, have all given up smoking; Vaughan for 22 years, Spiggle for more than a year and Abbitt for more than 12 years. A story on the upcoming "Great American Smokeout" can be found on page 12 issue.

Mitchell wins grid contest

Kristie Mitchell of Appomattox edged out five other contestants in a tiebreaker to take top honors in last week's version of the Times-Virginian football contest.

Russell Walton, also of Appomattox, was deemed second-place winner in the contest tiebreaker.

Mitchell and Walton each missed accurately predicting the outcome of only one of the football contest games. Bill Duncan of Crewe, Phil Bollinger of Evergreen and Roger Godsey of Appomattox were also in the tiebreaker, each of them having missed but one of the contest games.

In the tiebreaker, the contestant whose predictions of the scores of the tiebreaker games closest to the real scores is deemed winner.

Mitchell will receive a check for $20 from the Times-Virginian and Walton will receive a check for $10 from the paper.

The final contest is in this week's Times-Virginian, on page 13.
